

RICH MAN HELD ON CHARGE MADE BY LITTLE GIRLS

John Casale, of Newark, Arrested in Paterson, Gives $2,000 Bail.

John Casale, the distinguished looking and wealthy Newark real estate operator, who was arrested in Paterson, N. J., Saturday on a charge made by a girl, was held in $2,000 bail for the action of the Grand Jury by Acting Recorder Nolan today. He also was held in $100 bail on another charge made by Lillian Lechner, fifteen years old, for an offense said to have been committed July 18.

A large number of Casale's friends were in court and bail for his appearance before the Grand Jury was quickly furnished.

Casale says the whole affair is an attempt to blackmail him. His version is that when in Paterson Saturday he was accosted by Lillian Ryan, twelve years old, of No. 7 Cedar street, who asked him to get her a job, as she was then working in a factory and making only $1.50 a week.

He says he told her he was going to open a real estate office and might be able to employ her, but for her to go home and ask her mother and then meet him at 2 o'clock. When he met her Detective Keppeler arrested him.

The girl told her story to the acting Recorder, and afterward Casale was held for the Grand Jury.

After Casale's arrest Detective Sergeant McInerney, who had been working on the Lechner case, went to her home and told Lillian. As soon as she entered the child's room, she picked out Casale as the man who enticed her to the woods and attacked her. The girl stated when she saw him, and said there could be no possible doubts as to his identity.

Casale declared that he had never seen the Lechner girl.

GIRL HEROINE AT FIRE AIDS RESCUES

Mother and Two-Days-Old Babe and Invalid Woman Saved.

Two women, one with her two-day-old baby, were rescued during a fire today in the six-story apartment house at No. 24 East Ninety-ninth street. One of the rescues was made by a twenty-year-old girl, who had rushed into the house and the other by a retired policeman.

The fire started in the rooms of Mrs. A. Silverberg, on the ground floor. Dense smoke poured into the halls and those who were on the upper floors found their way of escape cut off. A rush to the fire-escapes and roof followed.

Henry Simony, a retired policeman, of No. 182 Morris street, who was passing, led many to the roof and then started to go through the apartments. As he reached the third floor he heard cries and breaking open the door of Mrs. Fanny Kirshner, found her in bed with her infant. Simony grabbed the woman and her baby in his arms and carried them to the roof.

Anna Eber, twenty years old, of No. 215 East Ninety-ninth street, rushed into the smoke-filled hall. On the second floor she found Mrs. Ida Abramson, an invalid. The twenty-year-old Mrs. Abramson told the fireman that the damage amounted to about $50.

POPE RECEIVES MGR. FARLEY WITH SPECIAL HONORS

Archbishop Had a Long Talk with the Pontiff, Who Sends Blessing to New Yorkers.

ROME, Aug. 2.—Archbishop Farley, of New York, visited the Vatican today and was received with great honor. Major Domo Biseri, the private chamberlain and officers of the Noble and Palatine guards accompanied him to the door of the papal private apartments.

The Pope received the Archbishop in the most affable manner and entertained him for more than half an hour. The Archbishop presented the jubilee greeting and offering of the New York Archdiocese and gave a most satisfactory report of conditions there.

The Pope was much pleased and thanked the Archbishop for the offering of Peter's Pence and sent the apostolic benediction to the clergy and laity of New York.

Archbishop Farley then introduced his suite, comprising the secretary, Rev. James V. Lewis, and the assistant secretary, Rev. D. J. McManis, Rev. C. A. Cassidy, of New Brighton, Staten Island, and Rev. Edward McCue, of Kingston, N. Y. The Pope received each graciously and spoke separately with each.

Archbishop Farley presented the following books, bound in vellum, to the Pope: The second and third volumes of the "Catholic Encyclopedia," the "History of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York," written by Monsignor Farley, a book on the New York Diocese by Dr. J. J. Walsh, of Fordham University, and the "Catholicism of Modern Times," giving the history of the Church in the form of questions and answers. The Pope's Pence offering was the largest ever presented by any American diocese.

The Pope knew all about the celebration of the New York diocese last April and said:

"It is marvelous what you Americans can do. You make miracles. Indeed, the centennial was a most remarkable religious event. That is the result of Church breathing free air and enjoying real liberty, and not that of being restricted within the bounds of certain constraints."

During the conversation the Pope recalled Monsignor Farley's visit to him at Venice in 1902, remarking: "It is quite different now from that day. Then I was free."

Here the Pope signed as if from 22nd Avenue, New York, his letter to the Archbishop Farley, however, found his Holiness in splendid health and cheerful. Indeed, speaking with a smile to a Cardinal who has not yet come to see him since the conclave, the Pope said yesterday: "It is very unkind of him. He put me in prison here and now he is free."

Monsignor Farley also presented to the Pope the offering of the New York Archdiocese for the jubilee, which he has been in New York to wish the Archbishop the Pontiff gave his special blessing.

METZ LOSES HIS SECRETARY.

Murray Will Return to Newspaper Work in London.

Comptroller Metz has lost his popular secretary, Charles Murray, who is going back to London to help Sir Alfred Harmsworth run his newspaper. Once in a while there is a chance of making more money in England than in America and Murray has found the chance.

He is getting $2,000 a year with Metz, where his popularity increased from the day he entered his office. He will make $2,500 with Sir Alfred. Murray has been in New York for some time and has been with Metz as comptroller and in business for some years.
